Critics of the law say it will do little to stop voter fraud. But Republicans pushed it through the Assembly, the state Senate and the governor's office, after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in a lawsuit brought by Republican supporters. A Wisconsin judge has put a temporary block on the law but the Legislature voted to allow it to take effect, and Wisconsin's Republican governor has said he will sign it. Officials in several other states are taking similar action. Increasingly frequent mass shootings have prompted nationwide efforts to strengthen gun laws and to pass measures that would provide more protection for gun owners. But gun control proponents say the seemingly safe places we all go to celebrate Thanksgiving can quickly change into life-threatening situations. After Adam Lanza walked into Sandy Hook Elementary School in Newtown, Connecticut in December of last year, he fired more than 20 shots from a Bushmaster.223 assault rifle and killed 26 people before taking his own life. Police have said Lanza was obsessed with violent video games. A few days after that incident, in an interview with NBC News, Florida Governor Rick Scott said: We just keep sticking our head in the sand and we think the politicians are going to do something about it, which they are not going to do. But on Wednesday night, Florida Governor Rick Scott delivered a Thanksgiving address to his fellow Americans. He encouraged lawmakers to pass new laws that would make it tougher to buy guns. And he called for them to reach some common ground. On the one hand, more common sense, everyone wants
