The following is a script of the press release that appeared on FIFA.com: “Best players, most realistic game, award-winning gameplay and most accurate ball physics – something for everyone” New features include: • HyperMotion Technology and Player Motion in FIFA 22™ • Elite Player Performance System • Master League, a new 11-club mode for clubs with the most registered players • "We Are One" – Official campaign content • All-new broadcast presentation Kicking off with a bang, FIFA 22 revamps key areas of the game to create a world-class team-based experience. Featuring the most realistic game of the game from a combination of in-studio and expert motion capture gameplay, HyperMotion Technology (HMT) gives players full control of their players with enhanced player movement and a revolutionary new way to control individual skills. The HMT engine is the most intuitive and dynamic system yet, providing players with full control of their players, ball flight and animation, while also delivering a higher level of realism. While all-new physics and animations give players more control of the ball and see and feel the ball penetrate the crevices of the world’s most realistic goal nets and goal posts, the best-ever match engine, matchday mode and complete matchday-to-matchday management mean that every playing scenario has been crafted for your best players, in the most authentic competition possible. FIFA 22 lets you choose how you play. There are more ways to approach the game than ever before. Intuitive controls adapt to different physical skill levels, while an improved ball physics system lets you feel the ball in more ways than ever before. The all-new Elite Player Performance System (EPPS) gives every player the ability to modify their performance using the new Efficient Player Performance Traits (EPPT) system. The EPPT system gives you the ability to make subtle tweaks to your players’ stamina, strength, speed, acceleration and more, allowing you to create the perfect player for any game, any situation. FIFA 22 also introduces a brand new graphics engine, FIFA’s most realistic goal netting and goal posts, plus the introduction of Master League. For the first time, top-rated and historic teams are available for the new 11-club Master League, providing a complete experience for the most dedicated fans to step inside

EA SPORTS FIFA is an authentic sports simulation that allows sports gamers around the world to compete against players on the same level worldwide. For FIFA 14, EA SPORTS has completely revamped the gameplay experience to provide the ultimate freedom of movement and responsive controls to give you more control in the most realistic way possible. FIFA's world-renowned gameplay engine draws from the real-life physics engine at the heart of FIFA 11 and FIFA 12, to bring an unprecedented level of control and control. FIFA 14 has a new fluid and intuitive control system that allows players to freely move and control a player in all directions. Players can now control every aspect of their players' movements in the field of play. Players now have the ability to use a fluid control system that allows them to control all movements of the player in the field of play, including the ball, such as cuts, feints, crosses, dribbles, passes, shots, slides, saves, and more. Every player in the game now moves with visual fluidity, provides detailed feedback, and can take advantage of numerous play options that define the true mechanics of the game. For dynamic situations, players can call on new contextual animations, including a new 'fly-through' mechanic that allows players to pass and move with the same fluidity and immediacy. This new system makes passing, crossing, and dribbling the most realistic in-game experience yet. The game's total design offers new ways to interact with the pitch. Field players can now step up and down natural surfaces more naturally, without having to jump at unnatural heights to perform moves. FIFA 14 offers a player-focused approach to the pitch, with players having more visual control of the pitch and the individual players. This includes new close-up and detailed player models. Designers have gone to great lengths to ensure that any and every player has a distinct look and style of play, creating the most diverse player roster in any sports game. FIFA 14 showcases new gameplay settings and new animation settings that add more depth and realism to the game. Animations have been refined and player models have been reworked to increase the level of detail. FIFA 14 takes an industry-first visual development focus on players and ball physics to create the most realistic looking game ever - players and ball movements on the pitch have never looked more real. The authentic feel of FIFA 14 continues to the
