“It's amazing to be able to experience the magic of real-life movement on our gaming platforms,” said Min Chen, Head of Game Design at EA SPORTS. “Thanks to the support of the athletes and world-class facilities, FIFA 22 players are able to run, jump, pass and shoot with a level of realism never before seen in football video games, making the game feel more like you're truly there.” The Complete Player Experience Also introduced at EA Play is FIFA 22's Complete Player Experience (CPX), a new series of tournaments, training programs and fan events built around FIFA's new tactical interactive training system. The events will feature behind-the-scenes insights into the creation of FIFA 22, providing gamers with a behind-the-scenes look at how the game came to life. Following the launch of FIFA 18 last year, the EA Sports Team broadcasted weekly speed round shows, allowing fans to dissect the game frame by frame and follow the process behind the making of FIFA 18. The new format for FIFA 22 CPX will be a mirror of this, but expanding on the concept to give fans even more insight behind the creation of the game. FIFA Ultimate Team FIFA 22 will introduce a brand-new "FUT" mode. FUT has been a top selling feature of FIFA since its launch in 2006 and continues to see the same widespread appeal. In order to inspire the new generation of FUT enthusiasts, EA SPORTS unveiled new career paths in FUT such as the FUT Hero, a new generation of superstar. As of June 22, EA SPORTS FUT is now live with more than 500 on-disc cards including superstars from the past, present and future of the game. These include legends from the game's past like David Beckham, Thierry Henry, Cristiano Ronaldo, Maradona and Zinedine Zidane. Contemporary superstars such as Lionel Messi, Neymar, Eden Hazard and Kylian Mbappe are available as of today, as is the FIFA 22 Xbox One X FIFA Ultimate Team Superstar—a new generation of superstar who is the first to bring together the best attributes of the past and future of the game. Intuitive FUT Battles FIFA Ultimate Team's line-up of gameplay features will be expanded with new Attacking and Defensive styles. FUT battles will focus on skill-shots and explosive shots, featuring skill shot button mappings,
