DEVELOPER: The Elder Scrolls Legends development team at ZeniMax Online Studios consists of game directors, design directors, visual artists, animators, programmers, testers, and artists. We are a small team that blends together a variety of skills, experience, and backgrounds that allows us to do great things. As a team, we've had great success on some of our previous games, including Monster Hunter World, Skyrim: Legends, and ZeniMax Online Studios' Bethesda Game Studios titles, including Fallout 4 and Skyrim. We are on a mission to create a game that millions of people will love. We believe in making games that have fun gameplay and a unique world. Because of this, we take a design-first mindset. We start by designing and sketching, then add our level of details through playtesting, iteration, and feedback. We continue to iterate on our design through a deep level of polishing. Throughout the development process, we constantly think about what the players will like the most, and then work to make it what we want it to be. In addition to The Elder Scrolls: Legends, the team works on The Elder Scrolls Online, a free-to-play MMORPG for PC and Mac. We are also working on a mobile game, an unannounced title, and an unannounced console title that will be made by an external studio. Contact: info@eldenring.com
