Two popular legends are inextricably linked with the birth of civilization. As recounted by the earliest peoples of the world, they met when one was of the leonine kind and the other of the serpentine. The lion being the gentle, intelligent and noble beast that he is, carried the giant snake back to his nest in the primeval forests for it to slumber while the mother lion nursed her cubs. This legend is told again and again with slight variations, across the lands of the world, but one thing remains true across cultures – the serpent is left to feed on their own children, and the world will not be the same again. You are the one who must finally put an end to it. You have been waiting patiently for your chance, ever since you first learned of the tale. Now that opportunity has come, and now is the time to act. You are charged with the daring mission of confronting the horrifying threat of the Shadow King, a giant, nightmarish creature representing the dark and horror-filled center of the serpent's power and influence. This is your chance to be a hero, to finally do your bit to ensure that the true meaning of the serpent will be driven back into the shadows.
